Conference on World Affairs
Office of the Chairman

24 November 1982

The Honorable William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
CIA Headquarters
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

The University of Colorado conducts an annual Conference on World Affairs on the campus in Boulder each spring. This year the Thirty-Sixth Annual Conference will occur during the week of April 3-8, 1983.

The Conference brings together persons from all over the world, primarily from the United States, but from outside the State of Colorado. There are some 100 participants in a wide variety of professions, interests and competence. The Conference consists of a series of plenary addresses in the morning at 9:00 and 11:00 A.M., at noon and 1:00 P.M., and in the evening at 8:00 P.M. In addition, there are ten series of roundtable discussions running each day Monday through Friday at 10:00 A.M., another 10 at 2:00 P.M. and another 10 at 4:00 P.M., covering a wide range of topics.

In the past two Conferences, [redacted] a retired official of your Agency, has organized and managed a series of panels and plenary addresses on the realities of intelligence in government. The participants have been primarily retired officials of the Agency and of the FBI; the plenary addresses have been chaired by General Marshall S. Carter, whom you know.

[redacted] has recently corresponded with [redacted] the Academic Co-ordinator in your Office of External Affairs concerning the 1983 Conference. [redacted] has a considerable file of information on the Conference and has offered to brief your Public Affairs Division.
